

Compliance Rules Scenario #5

Your machine is paid on a rental basis continuously. In order for your insurance to pay their portion for every month, your insurance requires proof of your compliance with using the machine. Your insurance will automatically pay for their portion of the PAP device for an initial trial period. After that, they will want to see you have been compliant with the PAP device.

Compliance means your usage of the PAP device must meet or exceed at least 4 hours a night on 50% (For Summit and AR Total Care, it's 70%) of the nights during the previous review period.

If you meet this requirement, your insurance will continue to rent the device through the next review period. You will be responsible for any deductible or co-insurance amounts not paid by insurance.

If these criteria have not been met by the end of your initial review period, you still have options. We will work with you if you decide you want to continue with the therapy. Our staff will be contacting throughout your trial to help you if we see you are in danger of not meeting your compliance.

In the event you ever switch primary insurances, please let us know. Your new insurance will require a new rental period to begin and you may be subject to different compliance requirements.
